WHAT TO DO DURING AN IMMIGRATION AND CUSTOMS ENFORCEMENT (ICE) VISIT

If Immigration and Customs Enforcement (ICE) appears at a [company name]'s place of business, please follow the steps set forth below. FIRST, make sure your HR manager and Operation personnel work together.

- 1. Determine who the investigators are? Ask for a business card. Make sure they really are with ICE. If you are suspicious, call the local agency office or the number on the business card to verify their identity.
- 2. Find out why the investigators are at your business:

A "RAID," which requires a Search Warrant, DOES NOT require advance notification.

An I-9 AUDIT (to verify employment eligibility) DOES REQUIRE three days' advance notice in writing but no search warrant. Some ICE agents will present a subpoena (in conjunction with an audit), suggesting that you need to comply with it immediately. However, you are entitled to three days' advance notice, and ICE CANNOT use a subpoena to shortcut that. Nevertheless, [company name] may choose to cooperate.

- 3. Stay calm. Be polite no matter how angry you might feel. Losing your temper will only make matters worse.
- 4. IF the investigators present a Search Warrant, examine it carefully. It should identify:
 - the agency or officers;
 - the location to be searched:
 - the specific items or individuals to be seized (if known): and
 - the expiration date for the court order.

Note: A warrant is a court order that gives law enforcement agents permission (or the right) to search your property. Resisting a warrant may result in contempt of court.

- 5. Contact [your inside legal counsel contact] immediately (work _____/home _____/cell _____). If you are unable to reach him/her and you are faced with an ICE RAID call our outside immigration counsel, [outside counsel's name], as quickly as possible. His/her office number is [phone number] and his/her cell number is [cell number]. It's a good idea to consult with an attorney who is versed in immigration law anytime ICE shows up.
- 6. Notify any temporary agency which currently has employees working on site of the ICE RAID or AUDIT and your expectation of their full cooperation.
- 7. During a raid, you have the right and SHOULD accompany ICE officers on their search. Take notes on what is occurring. Especially make notes if any unusual or disturbing behavior occurs (such as "badgering" employees or questioning only foreign-appearing employees). Make an inventory list of the items and computer files seized.
- 8. ONLY allow investigators to see the records they are legally entitled to see (what is listed in the warrant or subpoena). During an I-9 AUDIT, you are technically required to produce ONLY the I-9 forms for inspection (not seizure). If ICE wants to see anything else, you CAN require the agent to get a valid subpoena. You ARE NOT required to produce photocopies of the documents employees presented to establish identity and/or employment eligibility and counsel will work with you before deciding to hand over any identity or employment eligibility documents.
- 9. DO NOT allow documents to be removed from your property without making copies. The warrant in a raid permits them to remove originals. DO NOT, without the advice of legal counsel, turn over more documents than the law requires. During an audit (without a warrant), nothing in the law requires you to give ICE original I-9 forms or to make photocopies of I-9 forms.
- 10. KNOW YOUR RIGHTS. For example, you, your supervisors and your employees are not required to answer any questions. Also, you have the right to continue operating your business during the ICE visit. DO NOT SIGN ANYTHING!
- 11. DO NOT do anything that could get you into trouble such as trying to prevent access to the premises or blocking entrances. DO NOT hide employees, advise them to run or hide or help them escape from the premises.
